City seeks public works funds for fire station, roads, new court facility

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Romulus' federal program coordinator is preparing a four-pronged assault on the federal government in an effort to win funds for some badly needed capital improvements in the city.

Steve Bonczek will soon submit an application seeking varying amounts of funds to rebuild roads in Romulus, construct a new court facility for the city, build a new fire station and develop a new park in the city's southeastern section.

"All told, we're seeking something in the neighborhood of $4 million for civic improvements," Bonczek said. "I'd say that in at least three of the programs, Romulus has a pretty good chance of success."

Bonczek said there's a good likelihood the government will grant requests for approximately $2 million for road improvement, $1.3 million for the new 34th District Court building and $375,000 for a fire station, while there's a possibility of $200,000 for the new Meadows Park near the Hale Creek Elementary School in Romulus.

"I'm not as optimistic for the park because there are other funds available for park development," Bonczek said. "But in the case of the other grants, the federal government is seeking projects which can be started within 90 days, completed within two years and would have an impact on employment in the area, particularly in the construction industry."

Bonczek rates the court project as having the best chance to be funded since it involves construction not only for Romulus, but also Belleville, Van Buren Township, Huron Township and Sumpter Township.

"The impact of the court would be spread over five communities instead of one, and that's a plus," Bonczek said.

Another "plus" may be Romulus' soaring unemployment rate.

The latest unemployment figures for the community point toward a rate of nearly 12 percent in August. The last figure on unemployment was 11.5 percent for July, an increase of one percent since May.

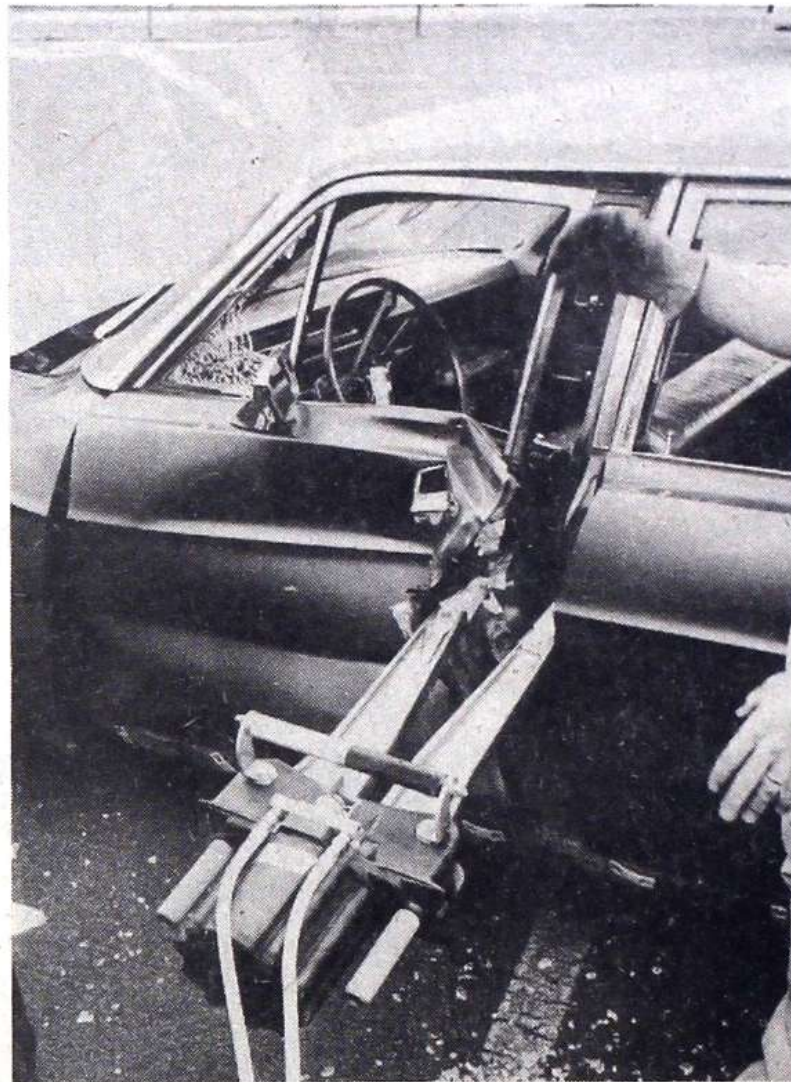

"With so many people out of work, the government may view Romulus as a 'top-priority community,'" Bonczek said.

"Everything's ready to go on the project, because we want to get there early," Bonczek said. "If you go by the amount of funds available to Michigan alone — $152 million — you'll see that there is only about $100,000 for each of these communities in the state."

"So the governments that get there first are the ones which may get more consideration."

"We intend to get there as quickly as possible."

The date on submitting the application is Oct. 1, according to Bonczek. "That will leave time to get some work stated this year," he explained. "But we have to wait for Congress to straighten out the guidelines and the President to sign the bill before we can apply."

Gaping jaws

The machine pictured here is opening the door of this automobile with the ease of a can opener. Romulus has purchased the life-saving machine dubbed "Jaws" to aid Romulus firefighters in freeing victims of automobile accidents. Where it once took at times hours to free victims of accidents with cutting torches, "Jaws" can do the job in seconds with a hydraulic pump carried on a fire truck. Purchase of the equipment was recommended by Mayor James C. Stewart following a request from Fire Chief John Wilheid.—Romulus Roman photo.

Hot lunch programs never planned for 2 grade schools

While some parents in the Romulus School District may believe their children are being shortchanged because there are no hot lunch programs in the district's two new elementary schools, the cut was planned.

According to Supt. James Garfield, there had been no plans to include hot lunch programs in the operation of cafeterias at the Hale Creek and Barth Road elementary schools, opened for the first time this year.

Constructed with funds from a 1973 bond issue, the two new elementary schools are designed to serve children within "walking distance" of subdivisions near Middlebelt and Eureka Roads and Barth Road and Huron River Drive in Romulus.

"The schools were planned for sack lunch programs," explained Garfield. "The only new hot lunch program we had planned in the district was at the new North Junior High School."

Opened this year, the North Junior High on Wick Road west of Wayne Road, has not had a chance to test its hot lunch program because of a problem with Romulus fire inspectors.

"The fire marshal notified us of a gas line in the cafeteria kitchen which he felt was unsafe," Garfield said. "So even though we had planned a hot lunch program for that school, we've been unable to implement it."

Garfield added, however, that the gas line problem was expected to be resolved by the time of publication of the Romulus Roman.

Despite the defeat two weeks ago of a millage increase proposal sought by the board of education to cope with rising costs, construction continues on the three new schools.

Construction will proceed despite the money pinch because funds set aside for this purpose through the passage of a bond issue by the voters in 1973, cannot be funneled into school operations, according to state law.

"It may appear that the board has money, but we're bound by law to keep the accounts separate," Garfield explained.

Voters rejected the tax hike by a better than 500-vote margin. The defeat meant that the district will continue to operate with approximately $1 million less in revenue than it had last year.

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Residents of Romulus now have a better idea as to where their taxes go courtesy of David Krause, Romulus city assessor.

Krause has prepared an outline for presentation to the Romulus City Council which points out that the City of Romulus obtains less than 25 cents of every tax dollar collected in the community for county, city and school taxes.

Of the average property tax dollar collected, a whopping 60.6 cents goes to the Romulus School System, with another two cents going to special education programs funded through the Wayne County Intermediate School District and 1.3 cents going to the Wayne County Community College.

Of the remaining funds, 23.4 cents is used to finance city operations while the remaining 12.7 cents funds county operations.

Krause's tax information sheet also contains valuable information on where tax dollars come from based on the classes of property in Romulus.

Contrary to statements that industry picks up a lion's share of the tax load in the city, the chart prepared by the assessor shows that industrial taxes account for only 24.5 cents of every dollar paid in taxes in the community.

That figure can be combined with personal property taxes, which this year provide 16.6 cents of every tax dollar collected in the community, since personal property generally is the machinery and inventory carried in largely industrial and commercial storage buildings.

In addition, commercial taxes in the city account for 14.1 cents of the community's collections, with the Metropolitan Airport providing 5.7 cents of every dollar netted by the community.

Agricultural land uses account for only 2.7 cents.

The largest comparative tax burden in the community is borne by residential uses, which pay 36.4 cents of every tax dollar collected.

However, Romulus residents are better off than most communities in Western Wayne County, where better than 60 cents of every tax dollar is collected from homeowners.

Hi, Jimmy!

Detroit Metropolitan Airport, in Romulus, received two special visitors last week. Waving exuberantly to well-wishers are Democratic presidential hopeful Jimmy Carter and President and Mrs. Gerald Ford. Carter proceeded to Dearborn where he spoke before a group of UAW members and the President journeyed to his alma mater—the University of Michigan—in Ann Arbor, addressed a large gathering of students, instructors and townspeople and then had dinner with America's No. 1 football team, the Michigan Wolverines. President Gerald Ford and Democratic presidential hopeful Jimmy Carter brought their campaigns to the Detroit area last week and Enterprise-Roman Photographer Lothar Konietzko was on hand to record their arrivals at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus. The rain stayed away from Carter, but unceremoniously deluged the President and his party. Carter spoke in Dearborn and Ford in Ann Arbor.

Van Buren at wit's end in police cooperation

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Enterprise Staff Writer

Van Buren Township has gone about as far as it can in cooperating with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department on maintaining "certified" officers on the Van Buren auxiliary police force.

Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said this week that "we've gone along with the sheriff by overworking the two certified officers we have, but it can't continue."

The sheriff has informed the township that it will no longer dispatch Van Buren police cars, as had been done by the sheriff for the past several years. The road patrol commanders have said that Van Buren's lack of certified officers was the reason for not dispatching Van Buren cars. Of the township's 18-person force, only two officers are certified.

Gollwitzer said he has informed Wayne County Under Sheriff Loren Pittman that the Van Buren auxiliary will begin utilizing all officers hired by the township regardless of the sheriff's unwillingness to dispatch uncertified officers.

"This whole situation is somewhat perplexing," Gollwitzer said. "We're heading toward a situation where individual police forces apparently can recognize whom they please."

"We formed the Van Buren force to aid the sheriff, and now he doesn't seem to want the aid."

"Wouldn't it be nice if the state police refused to cooperate with the county force and the county force refused to cooperate with municipal forces?"

"For people who need better and more coordinated law enforcement, we'd be in a heck of a bind with crime rising the way it is," Gollwitzer said.

Van Buren's force has been receiving the "cold shoulder" from the county sheriff for the past three weeks.

The decision by the sheriff to ignore the uncertified officers ended between 15 and 20 years of cooperation between The Van Buren police auxiliary and the sheriff's road patrol.

It was only a month ago that county officials assured Van Buren officials that they were content with the working relationship between the Van Buren force and the road patrol.

Romulus must do better to be 'votingest city'

Romulus voters will have to do better than they did at the city's Aug. 3 primary election and the Sept. 13 school board election if they expect to win a prize as the "votingest city in the United States."

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar, who entered the community in the "AmericanVote '76" contest, said the 14 percent turn-out in each of the city elections "won't do it if Romulus to win the November contest."

In the contest, Romulus will be competing against all communities of its size on the greatest number of registered voters who go to the polls.

If a community comes out with the highest mark, it will be named "America's Votingest City" and will win a plaque testifying to it.

"I figure an 80 percent turn-out will win us the contest," Folmar said. "But that's a long way off from the two 14 percent turn-outs we had in both the city and school elections."

The main attraction

The line outside the Little Caesar's Family Inn on Huron River Drive in Belleville stretched for hundreds of yards as youngsters from throughout Romulus and Van Buren Township lined up to pay their respects to Detroit sportdom's

Her 'something to do' stretches to 12 years

A job which started as "something to do" during the first year she was left alone after her children went to school has turned into a 12-year career for a Belleville-area mother of six.

Jane Light, an employee of Flag's Restaurant on Belleville Road at the I-94 freeway in Van Buren Township, has engaged in her 12-year career as a waitress because she "enjoys the interesting people" she meets on the job.

"I only intended to work for about a year, but the job provided to be so interesting that I decided to continue working another year," Mrs. Light said. "It's been 'just another year' for the past 12, and I'm saying the same thing today."

James Lyos, owner of the Belleville Flag's, along with a similar facility in Romulus, said Mrs. Light is special "because the radiance she casts on the restaurant while she performs her job is a real asset to Flag's."

"She's a fantastic person, and devoted person who is full of life," Lyos said. "Her radiance and pleasant personality really enhances the business."

'It's been just another year...'

Mrs. Light works the shift which would seem to be the most difficult for a waitress — the 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. day shift at a restaurant.

It's during those times which she could be expected to wait on patrons who still are grumpy from a short night's rest, or hurried by a half-hour lunch period.

But, according to Lyos, there hasn't been any problem between his waitress and the patrons.

"People really like her," Lyos said.

Mrs. Light said her secret on the job is remembering "it doesn't cost anything to smile."

"I'm genuinely please to meet new people," Mrs. Light added. "There are many many good memories of my work at Flag's and I've met thousands of interesting people."

"It's really flattering when they return after some time to see if I'm still around."

"Mrs. Light believes people like her because she follows a stringent set of rules, in addition, to smiling while on the job."

"I made up my mind early that people who come into the restaurant don't want to know about my troubles and keep them to myself," Mrs. Light said. "I try to learn about the customers."

"They seem pleased when I can remember something as simple as they don't like cub sugar, but that's part of knowing them."

"And I make sure that when they first come in, they have coffee in front of them."

"No matter how crowded it is, and how long it takes to get orders, people always seem to be more patient if they have their coffee the first thing."

Mayor nets honor; Heads bike-a-thon

The mayor of Western Wayne County's largest city has been named honorary chairman of the Oct. 9 event, sponsored by the Wayne Jaycettes to benefit the Easter Seal Society.

Mayor Tom F. Taylor of Westland, has been named honorary chairman of the Oct. 9 event, sponsored by the Wayne Jaycettes to benefit the Easter Seal Society.

"It is a great honor to be associated with such a worthwhile event," said Taylor on being named to the honorary post. "Funds raised through this event can go to no better cause."

Service conducted for businessman

The long-time Belleville businessman was buried Monday following services at the Roberts Bros. Funeral Home in Belleville.

William Burhop, owner of Burhop's Collision on Davis Street in Belleville, was honored in services following his death Sept. 17. Officiating at ceremonies at the funeral home was Pastor Walter Henning of the Lutheran Church.

Interment was at Hillside

Funds raised through pledges in the 24-mile event will go to the Easter Seal Society to finance its programs benefitting handicapped children and adults.

Funds will be raised from donors who are asked to contribute money for specific riders based on the distance they cover.

Scheduled for between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Oct. 9 in the Edward Hines Parkway, the bike-a-thon will have five checkpoints, to validate the distances covered by riders.

"Everyone who enjoys riding a bike with family and friends is encouraged to become a part of this most worthwhile event," said Taylor. "If a person does not choose to participate on a bike, he or she could participate as a sponsor."

"Sponsors may be friends, relatives, neighbors or local businesses or organizations which will contribute for each mile each rider pedals."

"Other bike-a-thons held in various parts of the country have raised funds for many worthwhile causes, and we are confident that this event will help the same way while promoting safe bike riding habits at the same time."

Contributors to the bike-a-thon are asked to donate at least 5 cents per mile for each mile covered by a sponsored rider.

Each person who hopes to ride in the Bike-A-Thon is asked to obtain as many sponsors as possible.

Registration and sponsorship forms for the bike-a-thon are available through area A and W Restaurants and through area schools.

Anyone seeking additional information about the Easter Seal Bike-A-Thon is asked to call the Easter Seal Society at 722-3055.

The side dishes will be french fries or tator gems, dessert and milk.

In Romulus the Community Schools next week will start off with a menu of baked beans with sliced franks, cabbage salad, bread and butter, fruit cup and milk, followed by toasted cheese sandwiches, tomato and vegetable soup, bread and butter, cup and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the bill of fare will be sloppy joes or hot dogs, rolls and butter, buttered corn and milk.

Next Thursday the cafeterias will be serving beef gravy over whipped potatoes, green beans, bread and butter, fruit cup and milk, with lasagna with meat and cheese, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit cup and milk topping off the week.

From early August to frost, spray sweet corn and peppers regularly to protect them against invasion by the European corn borer. Entomologists recommend a mixture of Sevin and diazinon sprayed on the undersides of the leaves as well as on the ears and fruits. Follow all label directions.

Banking history

The delicacy of artisans marked a period of the state's banking history in which wildcat banks thrived and is the topic of a currency display at the Romulus office of Manufacturer's Bank. Vira Petraska (left), assistant manager of the branch, and Leo Kalota, vice-president, were one of the first to view the exhibit, which will be at the office through Friday. The currency on display was issued during the free banking period when there were no federal controls on the monetary system. — ANP photo.

19th century currency shown at bank office

A collection of 19th century bank notes and Depression script exchanged as money during the 1930s currently is on display through Friday at Manufacturer's Bank's Romulus Office, located at 36450 Goddard Road.

The bank notes were the creation of artisans whose specialty was hand-engraving on steel plates to produce images of great delicacy and charm. The vignettes chosen for the notes were intended to express all the virtues a bank should possess: integrity, solvency, fidelity and a little bit of patriotism, a bank spokesman explained.

He went on to say that one of the favorite ways to demonstrate a bank's integrity was to "borrow" the good name of men like George Washington and Benjamin Franklin by using their portraits on a note.

Solvency and a mood of prosperity were evoked with the use of bountiful harvest scenes of prosperous ships and trains, the spokesman added. These pictures also helped express the bank's industry and respect for hard work. Good looking farm animals also were used to convey a feeling of prosperity, he said.

Fidelity was signified by man's best friend, the dog, on the old bank notes and many times was depicted in the role of protecting a small child.

The spokesman explained that during the formative years of the United States there was no national banking system with no federal paper currency. Individual banks issued their own notes to be used as a medium exchange, with each note a promise to pay the stated sum in hard currency (coin) or demand at a specific location.

During the "free banking era" restrictions determining who could issue notes was quite lax and as a result many banks issued notes without being able to redeem them in coin, the spokesman said.

In Michigan such a bank was called a "wild cat" because it was "about as trustworthy as a wild animal," the spokesman added.

In the bank branch exhibit, remnants of that era in Michigan history—"shipplasters", the notes of the banking free era, are on display during regular banking hours.

Smith gains post on labor panel

A Wayne County commissioner has been appointed to the Employment Steering Committee of the National Association of Counties (NACo) after nomination by members of the Michigan Association of Counties.

The 2-year appointment of Commissioner Royce E. Smith of the 27th District was announced from Washington, D.C., by NACo president Daniel C. Lynch, who praised Smith for his willingness to serve.

NACo committees consist of 36 members nominated by their respective state associations. The committees recommend policy for consideration at the annual NACo convention, and, if adopted, become part of the national county platform which is urged upon Congress for approval.

"Naturally, I am delighted with the appointment," Smith said. "Both employment and unemployment are such important factors in our communities, and I am happy to be placed in this position where I intend to make my best contribution towards solving the problem."

Smith considers the appointment an expression of confidence in both his interest and ability and noted that in May he volunteered for congressional workshops in Washington that studied various government programs like the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, federal Revenue Sharing and public works and full employment legislation.

In addition to representing the county's 27th District, he holds several other posts that he said were recognized to have provided "direct and appropriate" experience in his NACo appointment. Those positions include chairmanship of the county Manpower Advisory Council, vice-chairman of the county Labor Relations Board and membership on the board's Advisory Committee for the Community Development Act, as well as the committee for Continuing Finance, Budget Analysis and Priorities.

Hospital gets body scanner

Annapolis Hospital, one of five facilities operated by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA), has become another facility in the nation acquiring a "body scanner" for disease detection.

The PCHA Board of Directors has applied to the Michigan Department of Public Health for a "certificate of need" to acquire the $600,000 scanner for the medical facility, located in Wayne.

The scanner is known as a computerized axial tomography system, which utilizes radiology to learn more about the body's functions.

As Panax sees it

Young, Tannian response is weak; they still must go

FIVE WEEKS ago this newspaper called on our neighbors in the City of Detroit to get rid of Coleman Young as mayor and Phillip Tannian as police chief.

We also called on Gov. Milliken to take steps to protect all of us when we are in downtown Detroit. We called on the Legislature to remove molly-coddling restrictions on police and courts dealing with Detroit's teen-gangsters. We asked the Supreme Court to give Detroit courts the help they need.

The trigger was the August 15 teenage rampage at Cobo Hall that flaunted the gangs' contempt for every decent, law abiding citizen in Southeastern Michigan.

There have been some positive developments.

Juvenile Judge James Lincoln has stiffened the spines of his fellow judges and Juvenile Court referees by ordering high minimum bail for toughs who disrupt schools. We hope that will spread.

Gov. Milliken dispatched state police to patrol Detroit freeways abandoned some time ago by Detroit police.

The Young administration sought and got from City Council a revised curfew law. While Detroit police had not been enforcing the old law, the new one is being strictly interpreted.

The Supreme Court assigned additional judges to Juvenile Court to help handle the expected increase in cases.

Newspapers, radio and TV hit the events hard — for about two weeks.

The Young-Tannian combo called back from layoff amidst a flourish of rhetoric and press releases, some 500 policemen to man the downtown area and precincts. This was not as impressive as it was made to sound. All of those laid off police were due to be back on the job within two weeks anyway.

These are just about all the positive developments we have seen.

Some other events and disclosures are not so encouraging.

It was learned that the Detroit Police Department has one of the least effective intelligence operations in the country on teenage gangs.

But it was also learned that, despite this lack, most of the real toughies were known to police and that a Harvard researcher had predicted the gang upheaval as far back as last April. Apparently, Detroit Police did little or nothing.

On the legislative front, nothing happened. You may get some interesting answers if you were to ask your current candidates for the legislature — on whom you will vote in about seven weeks—why. And you might ask them where they stand on the problem. Get specifics, not generalizations.

And, finally, there was the usual rhetoric.

Young blamed "outsiders", without saying who, for fomenting the youth problem.

Someone high in the Young administration planted a report that Tannian is going to be fired. We endorse the idea but we look on this particular rumor as a maneuver to take the heat off Young and nothing else.

The mayor mounted a public relations campaign seeking to diminish effects of the fear that is reaching an almost unbearable level among hundreds of thousands of Southeastern Michigan residents who must use Detroit's streets and business district.

Detroit isn't as bad as some other cities, Young said. Maybe, but we live in Detroit, not some other city. And it's bad enough for us.

The real cause is race discrimination, lack of jobs, lack of playgrounds, lack of just about everything, say the social theorists. They almost gleefully say "I told you so".

There's no argument with that basic stand. It's true. But it is true about the youngsters that still have to reach their teens.

The problem is with those already there. No amount of money for playgrounds, youth movements, jobs, welfare, anything else is going to turn them around.

And, of course, the greed appeared. Leaders of the Detroit Police Union — who surely do not have a spotless record—complained bitterly when Gov. Milliken sent in state troopers. Union bosses wanted the state to give the money to the city for spending within the Detroit police department.

It's obvious Young and his administration have responded. The response has not been enough. Firing Tannian is a step in the right direction.

But nothing has happened since August 15 to make this newspaper change its belief that Young and Tannian are symbols of what is wrong with law enforcement in Detroit.

Coleman Young must go. Phillip Tannian must be removed.

'Enterprising' drug pushers reap astronomical profits

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations;
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

This is the second in a series of articles on illegal drugs as seen through the eyes of policemen, educators, social scientists and medical personnel.

"The profits are astronomical." That was the reply of a local narcotics officer to my question of why he thought people would engage in illegal drug sales.

He said the figures he would use were possibly a little dated, but would serve as models for percentages of profit.

"If you are a dealer with a good connection, you can purchase a kilo (2.2 pounds of 35 ounces) of French heroin for approximately $20,000.

"That heroin, which will be maybe 90 percent pure, can be cut to 3 to 4 percent strength and sold on the streets for almost $500,000.

"That kind of mind-boggling profit has been known to turn even an honest man's head," he said.

The second officer said, "The same sort of thing is true for marijuana.

"A brick (kilo) of marijuana costs a dealer less than $6 an ounce or in the neighborhood of $175.

"The dealer grinds up the leaves, stems, dirt, and any other damn thing he can mix in and makes at least 45 ounces from the original brick.

"He'll sell that 45 ounces for between $12 and $15 an ounce. He gets, then, perhaps $675 for an investment of less than $200."

Marijuana is found in the flowering tops of the Indian hemp plant cannabis sativa. On the streets it's variously called grass, pot, mary jane, weed, tea and many other less printable nouns. The argot of the dope world changes from time to time to keep the 'squares' off side.

The cigarettes made from marijuana are called joints, reefers, or sticks.

Marijuana is a mild hallucinogen which works on the user's brain and central nervous system. The precise mechanism of its operation is still not known to medical science.

There are no empirical data which prove conclusively that marijuana smoking leads to experimentation with other, much more dangerous drugs.

However, researchers point out that those people who are predisposed to drug abuse of any kind most likely have a psychological set which makes them excellent candidates to graduate to hard drug usage.

After all, users of any illicit drug must by definition find themselves in an environment which exposes them to any numbers of people who use and sell drugs illegally.

The sheriff of a large county in Michigan said, "I'm not prepared to say that pot smoking will lead to hard drug use. But, in my many years of law enforcement, I've never known a hard drug user who didn't start on cannabis.

"Life enjoyed with a clear head has got to be preferable than trying to cope with problems through an artificially induced state of euphoria which is transient at best," he said.

We were interested to learn of a phenomenon called psychological high.

The narcotics officers said that several years ago, there appeared on the streets a drug named blue dot acid.

An enterprising young man purchased a very large bottle of simple aspirin, used a blue felt-tip pen to put a blue dot in the middle of each aspirin, and then sold the tablets for an enormous profit.

Some of those who took the aspirin actually claimed to experience a high, even though such a reaction was chemically impossible.

Perhaps there is something to the old saying that "It's all in your head!"

On the brighter side

Let's all light a candle

By JIM BRADLEY
Pastor, Fair Haven Baptist Church

EVERYBODY light a candle. Yes, put a match to the wick.

It doesn't seem possible, but another year has rolled around and I celebrated my birthday last Thursday. Just say I'm 39 and "holding." Also, this column marks the third month that I've been writing "On The Brighter Side" and I certainly appreciate Editor Bob Cochran giving me the opportunity.

It was 10 years ago this month that I wrote my first article for the Eagle and I have written, off and on, for four local suburban newspapers in that stretch. I've learned a lot since then, but I'm still a typewriter, trying to say things differently, probing, challenging, rebuking, smiling, and I hope, inspiring. My sense of humor has been misunderstood at times, but I guess that is to be expected. People also have been more than generous in praise of my writing, and I'm grateful.

I hope that somewhere along the way you have been lifted up from the humdrum, dreary world into that joy that is available through a personal faith in Jesus Christ. If I have caused a smile to replace a frown, taken your mind from pressing problems, or made your day a little brighter, then my writing shall not have been in vain.

Whenever a person embarks upon a journalistic journey to convey his thoughts to the reading public, he will not please everyone. I don't try to please everyone. I don't try to please you, the editor, the publisher or myself. What I have honestly striven to do in each column is to say something that needs to be said. I never start an article without first bowing my head and asking God's guidance. However, prayer cannot always overcome a lack in journalistic ability.

Sometimes I will write about everyday life, the mundane things. Humorous, frivolous things, which some people think a minister has no business writing about, are a vibrant part of life, and as such, an integral part of my life. There are four things that fill my personal life, apart from my wife and family. They are God, sports, humor and writing.

People have the mistaken idea that when a man is ordained into the ministry and has reverend tacked to the front of his name that somehow he becomes like a toy soldier. They imagine him to be unreal, in a sense — without the feelings, hopes, dreams and sense of humor of every human being.

They fail to realize that within the breast of every preacher is a heart that throbs with all the intensity, love, longing for security, and sense of belonging known to every human. But somewhere along the line, they treat him as if he were fragile and might break. No preacher needs to be handled with kid gloves. He knew what he was getting into when he was ordained into the ministry — and yet, I dare say that the actions of some of his church members still shock him. You come to realize that just because a person goes to church on Sunday does not automatically place a halo around his head. In fact, most of a preacher's heartaches and discouragements come not from sinners, but from those professing to know and love the Saviour.

I love writing with a passion. It is a "calling" in my life and I thrill to string words together, whether in a column, a sports story or regular news story. Writing a column is good hard work. If you don't believe me, let's see you sit down and write two or three articles in readable form describing what you believe and why. Let's see you challenge, exhort, inspire and interest those who wait to be shown.

Saying it differently is always preeminent in my mind. Someone has stated that everything has already been said better than we can ever hope to write it. I guess this is true. And yet, the fires of fervency drive a good writer to say it differently. A young writer once asked what it took to write a daily column. A veteran journalist answered, "Just sweat and blood."

I hope that this column each week can be a candle that will shed light and humor and inspiration to many weary souls sharing the pilgrim journey through life. Jesus said: "Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house." (Matt. 5:15).

The Master also commanded, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Remember, it is better to light just one little candle than to curse the darkness.

Commonsense Views on Uncommon Issues

Bottle bill should be 'canned'

By HARRY R. HALL
Retired President
Michigan State Chamber of Commerce

One of the issues on the November ballot pertains to a forced deposit on beverage containers. This proposal, if passed, would force consumers to make a 10-cent deposit on all soft drink and beer cans and bottles.

It would ban entirely the popular container known as "pop top" cans. Further, it would establish state certified bottles, whatever that designation means. The police power of the state would still be used to bludgeon the consumer into a 5-cent deposit on this favored container.

This proposal is on the ballot as a result of a successful petition drive by a politically convenient alliance between the Governor, self-assumed leader of the "Ban the Can—Throttle the Bottle" clique, and the pretentiously puristic Michigan Union Conservation Clubs.

They were supported by one of the Governor's top appointees, Peter Fletcher, publicity hungry chairman of the State Highway Commission, who "urged" the 4,000 state highway department employees to hustle signatures for the petition. Moral and practical support came from some leftist-liberal legislators, who have been unable to jam this through the legislature for the past several years. Additional aid was given by a motley assortment of committed restrictionists who would support anything that deprives consumers of one more freedom of choice in what is supposed to be a free market economy.

It would be difficult to estimate the amount of time spent on this issue by an indeterminate number of the closet anti-enterprise members of the Governor's staff who have been pressuring for this proposal for years. Of course, The Detroit Free Press, with its customary puzzling punditry, gave unrestrained editorial coverage to the cause.

In my commonsense opinion, the voters should reject this proposal with resounding finality. I suggest that the well meaning signers of the petition take a hard, calm, thoughtful look at their agitations. I could write a volume on the reasons for this position. A few must suffice for the space available.

The traditional excuse for banning or penalizing with high deposits beverage containers has been that it would eliminate litter. That is so much balderdash with a couple of utopian antheaps thrown in. Beverage containers constitute a small percentage of litter. Even if such a law worked with 100 percent effectiveness, only a small part of the litter would disappear.

Oregon and Vermont have tried the anti-consumer approach to the litter problem. The no-deposit beverage containers have been abandoned by government fiat. The consumers have been denied a preferred convenience product. The politicians have taken their initial bows. They are now seeking excuses for the failure of their actions. The litter is still there in greater abundance than ever. The noble experiments have become ignoble experiences. Why should Michigan consumers and taxpayers be asked to accept a discredited system that failed so miserably in two other states?

Passage of this proposal will eliminate jobs. That prediction can be made with the accuracy of the gyrocompass. Several thousand union scale job holders will be forced onto the unemployment compensation rolls because can and bottle manufacturers will be forced out of business. This will be another drag on the state's struggling economy. This will denigrate the reputation of the state as a preferable location for business operations. There will be no encouragement for business to locate in a state where the top officials lead the drive to put other business firms out of business.

I was personally involved in the location of Michigan's largest no-deposit bottle manufacturer. The ground breaking ceremonies were delayed for a year and the final decision to make the heavy investment to build the plant was postponed pending reversal of a Liquor Commission ruling to prohibit no-deposit beer bottles. The chief of the company at that time stated bluntly that if the company's products were not welcome on the payrolls were not welcome either. That policy still exists. Today that company employs over 800 people with a payroll in excess of six million dollars. The plant is strategically located for the no-deposit market. It serves the returnable-deposit market from out of state factories. Banning the product means banning the payrolls.

This applies to other companies engaged directly in the manufacture of the bottles and cans and the wide variety of companies who provide products and services to the primary plants. This is not a supposition. This is not intended as a scare tactic. The executives and union leaders directly involved in the affected business firms have told me that they will be forced to cease operations in Michigan if this new law is passed. I cannot quote them verbatim because this paper will not print such strong language. Does it make sense to pay this price in the mere hope that a few less bottles and cans may be discarded by a few slovenly slob who will throw away deposit type containers just as readily?

Thoughtful voters will not be deceived by phony claims made by idealistic mystics in voluminous reports published at taxpayers expense to try to prove that this ban of beverage containers would create new jobs. One such report was issued over a year ago after an academic bureaucrat in the Public Service Commission spent a full year of full-time effort putting together a collection of the most tedious tripe. The whole premise of the report was based on purely academic assumptions that do not withstand the analysis of even casual examination. The report is full of outdated, unreliable, discredited references. Anyone foisting such academic vapidity on the public is clownishly engaging in reckless destruction of an economy that will not withstand much more of such flippant trifles.

Approval of this illogical approach to the solid waste problem would be one more sad example of people tossing away carelessly one more of their options because they did not care a damn enough about their freedoms to protect them until it is too late. A sad situation indeed!

That's Daniel Schorr

'Fake' martyr fed to toothless lions

WASHINGTON — Weep not, my friends, for Daniel Schorr. His "confrontation" with the House Ethics Committee only briefly interrupted a speaking schedule where the former CBS correspondent hauls down more in a week than most Americans in a year.

Mr. Schorr is a bogus martyr fed to toothless lions. There was never a serious danger he would be cited for contempt and sent to the slammer. Indeed, had Mr. Schorr been marched over to the D.C. jail and booked, he would have been out within hours, on the cover of Time Magazine, instant nominee for the John Peter Zenger and Elijah Lovejoy awards, and hero of the First Amendment. His lecture fees would have been astronomical.

That Mr. Schorr emerged from the House hearing in better shape politically than he entered, however, is a tribute to his savvy, and the supporting fire laid down by his colleagues in the national press.

Schorr successfully shifted the focus of inquiry away from how he abused the CIA report over to the question of how he had originally obtained it. In refusing to divulge his source, Schorr took a stand even journalists who deplore his behavior had to support. In making the issue one of whether or not Daniel Schorr would betray a confidence, he knew the entire journalistic community would be at his side.

Forgotten in all this, however, is the indefensible behavior of Schorr once that report was in his possession. If memory serves, the President asked and Congress voted to withhold publication of the report until certain national security secrets might be removed or protected.

Schorr decided to overrule the President and Congress, to get the report published, not openly, but clandestinely. Using a "reporters' committee" as his "cut-out," Schorr had the document transferred to the trendy, anti-CIA Village Voice which was delighted to use the nation's secrets in its latest national circulation drive. In exchange for its role in the seedy enterprise, the "reporters' committee" was promised a substantial payoff from the boss of the Village Voice.

If all this was in the best tradition of the First Amendment, why did Schorr lie about his role when confronted with the truth by reporters from the Washington Post? If all this was heroic, why have not the heroes come forward to identify themselves, and explain the details of this commercial transaction, and how much dough was involved.

Daniel Schorr is the Daniel Ellsberg of American journalism. And, by and large, the journalistic community has decided that this media scandal should be left uninvestigated and unexplored — i.e., covered up. Here is a matter where the press has determined the people do not have the right to know. And there are lessons in the episode for Capitol Hill politicians.

If the target of your investigation is an institution the liberal press abhors, i.e., the CIA, the Pentagon, the FBI, the multinationals, you can count upon the collaboration of the national press in publishing your leaks and propagandizing your cause. Indeed, find a target the national press particularly detests, and it will make a silk purse for you out of a Frank Church or Peter Rodino.

But if the target of congressional inquiry is an individual or institution the press favors, or worse, the press itself, then the investigators can expect to be tarred as prying McCarthyites, wasting the taxpayers' money, interfering with basic freedoms, conducting a foolish and futile exercise.

As soon as the House Ethics Committee decided to investigate the leak of that CIA report, it should have known it would get nothing but the back of the hand of the national press.

A century ago, congressmen and senators used to dance to the tune of the timber and mining interests, the railroads and banks. They were paid off in cold cash. We are in a more sophisticated era. Now, a significant slice of the Congress takes its cue from the Big Media; it serves as political mercenaries of the liberal press. These congressmen and senators are regularly paid off as well — in the precious coin of free and favorable publicity.

PANAX OPINIONS

U.S. driving Rhodesia, S. Africa to suicide

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — "We have the wolf by the ears," wrote Thomas Jefferson in 1820 to a friend on the slavery issue, "and we can neither hold him, nor safely let him go."

American policy toward South Africa and Rhodesia is in much the same position. This policy is based on a set of premises that in our own national experience over the last century and a half produced tragedy for the very blacks it was intended to help.

Secretary of State Henry is committed to majority rule in South Africa and Rhodesia. But behind his relentless campaign to achieve this end is a recognition that the white minority will eventually be driven out of both nations. How else to explain a U.S. British plan that would cost the U.S. taxpayers almost $2 billion in guaranteeing white settlers compensation if, as in other African nations, the Rhodesian whites are driven out. In effect, the U.S. is asking a white minority to commit political, economic, and social suicide in the name of majority rule!

However, an examination of this majority rule premise reveals that it is founded on fictional theory rather than on fact. For example, in no African nation that has become independent in the last 15 years do we find dictatorships or civilian and authoritarian one-party regimes. In short, in most African nations a black minority rules over a black majority. American policy, therefore, is rooted in a theory that is nonexistent anywhere in Africa. Nevertheless, the United States say it cannot tolerate the alleged immorality of white minority rule in South Africa and Rhodesia.

This contradiction exposes the basic fallacy of U.S. policy toward white-ruled South Africa and Rhodesia. It is a fallacy that this nation pursued prior to and immediately after the U.S. Civil War, with disastrous consequences for both blacks and whites. The difference, however, between our own national experience and in South Africa is that the great tribal system did not exist in this nation. U.S. policy of majority rule, as a democratic Western idea, clashes with tribal systems throughout Africa that are not democratic but autocratic.

The South Africans and Rhodesians understand this after decades of experience and, despite Washington's fanaticism, have worked out a formula of racial separation as the most practical means currently to preserve the status of whites and black tribal customs, traditions, and heritage. But intense moralizing about this system by Western whites, who fail to see it based more on experience that permits coexistence of a white European Western culture and a black tribal culture, threatens to bring down both the whites and the blacks.

Prior to the U.S. Civil War, and afterwards, American white abolitionists pursued a similar blindness toward the complexity of relations between the races. Like the New Abolitionists in America toward South Africa and Rhodesia today, the abolitionists of a century ago refused to face the consequences of what they were proposing by using force that rejected experience in favor of theory. The results were a shattering civil conflict that left blacks without the preparation and means to maintain their own survival. America is still living with the legacy of the fanaticism of the American abolitionists. Exhausted by the U.S. Civil War and the chaos it created, the Americans between 1865 and 1960 opted for racial segregation, less as a means to repress American blacks than to effect a compromise. South Africa and Rhodesia have opted for a similar solution because of a far more complex tribal system than the U.S. found itself confronted with when it came to American blacks.

But because of the intense moralizing by the United States of the alleged evils of race separation and the demands for majority rule, our own government is blind to the disaster it is helping to create for both blacks and whites in South Africa. The whites will eventually be driven out, black dictatorships will be established in both nations and tribal warfare will erupt. Only the authoritarian systems in Moscow, Peking and Havana, which do not have majority rule, will benefit as they have in Angola and other nations where civil conflict erupted.

Thus, the United States, ignoring its own difficult national experience, although it was less complex, is rushing headlong toward disaster and condemning the great tribal systems in Africa to certain and early extinction. The South Africans and Rhodesians know this, but Washington prefers perturbed theory to hard-won experience.

HOW DO I GO ABOUT RETIREMENT?

If you are ever in doubt about whether or not to visit a friend or relative whom you know to be terminally ill, then make the visit! It will benefit both of you. If he doesn't wish to see you, he will make his wishes known. If it grieves you to see him, share your grief...bring a caring and mutual friend. Together you may diminish the sorrow you share with your terminally ill relative. Do not be reluctant to ask if there is anything he wishes you to do for him — any letters to write, people he'd like to see again whom you could bring or ask to come.

Don't be backward about talking of good times shared, memories of happy occasions, sad ones, too. If he knows he is seriously ill, your offer of help may be most welcome, perhaps even fortuitous.

What else do you talk about to someone terminally ill? Shared experiences, mutual good and bad and amusing times and situations — but mostly you LISTEN. He has a lot to tell you...in words, in looks and expressions. Studies made with terminally ill patients by Herman Feifel, Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and others indicate they may pass through emotional stages of denial, anger and finally, acceptance of their impending death. To learn more about coping with these stages, stop by for some suggested reading.

Milliken could be sure thing in '78

LANSING — When Gov. William G. Milliken makes his final decision whether to run for another term in 1978, the results of this fall's elections could be the biggest single factor in his final choice.

What it all may boil down to is whether the Republican hierarchy feels it can afford to let its biggest, most durable vote-getter retire. That could depend in large part on whether President Ford is elected, whether Republican U. S. Senate candidate Marvin Esch is elected and how the GOP does in Congressional and State House races.

If Ford and Esch lose and Democrats hold or increase their numbers in the legislative delegations, the pressure would be very great on Milliken to win one more for the party. That would mean the only statewide offices the GOP hold — the governorship and Griffin's U. S. Senate Seat — would both be up for grabs in the 1978 election.

Griffin would in all probability want Milliken on the ballot to help himself.

If, on the other hand, Ford and Esch both win, the GOP would be in a much stronger position and much more willing to let Milliken leave office and let a new face join Griffin on the ballot.

If he does want to quit, Milliken's "problem" is the enduring popularity he shows in the public opinion polls, both public and private. His rating of approval has consistently been over 60 percent a remarkable feat for an industrial state governor in his eighth year of office.

He has won two elections in heavily Democratic years on the strength of his personal popularity and has seen the popularity overcome the recession and disenchantment with specific programs on the part of urban, suburban and rural residents. It will be asking the party leadership to make quite a sacrifice to give up the closest thing they have to a sure thing.

Pre-autumn parties on local calendars

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Peggy Books, the daughter of Tom and Shirley Books of Sunrise Lane, is busy with final preparations for her October wedding. Saturday, Sept. 11, she had the fun of opening scads of pretty new items for her future home during a shower given by Ginger Schimmell, Lilyan Carlson and Sally Griffith.

Held at the Schimmel home on Harmony Lane, the afternoon party was tagged "miscellaneous" and centered around a sit-down salad luncheon. Tables were appointed in the yellow, green and orange color scheme of the wedding.

Some 26 guests from Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Northville, Livonia, Ann Arbor and Belleville enjoyed bridal theme games and seeing Peggy unwrap her gifts. Her Michigan State roommate, Ruthelen Walters of St. Clair Shores, who's to be honor attendant at the wedding, assisted with the ribbons and wrappings. Two more of Peggy's bridesmaids, Barb Schimmel and Sue Carlson, were also on hand for the festivities.

Peggy and her fiancé, Ken Voigt of Gregory, have reserved the Allen Park Presbyterian Church for their Oct. 9 wedding.

Welcome back

Several former Kiwanians and their wives returned to renew old acquaintances Sept. 11 when the Belleville Kiwanis Club held its 30th anniversary dinner-dance. Among those who answered the invitation sent by the Past Presidents Club were Henry and Lillian Sietz (at left.) Welcoming them to the gala at Van Buren Township Hall were Past President Bert Smith, who was chairman of the party, and his wife, Lee, and Helen Miller and her husband, Past President Gerry Miller.

They're 30 years old

The Belleville Kiwanis Club marked its 30th birthday Sept. 11 with a dinner-dance at Van Buren Township Hall. Arranged by the Past Presidents Club, the party was chaired by Bert Smith who was assisted by Gerry Miller, Don Meyer and Manley Baldwin.

Invitations were sent to former club members with the Henry Sietzs, the Irv Wallaces (he was at the helm in 1961) and the Bob Drysdals joining the group for a bit of "remembering when."

Other past presidents on hand for the occasion were Art Hill (1955), Don White (1972), and John Touse (1975). Incoming president Jim Richendollar and his wife, Sharon, helped comprise the group of 40 who attended.

Years of presidency for the other men were Baldwin, 1964; Miller, 1965; Smith, 1971 and Meyer, 1973.

Among those attending was Norman (Dutch) Atchinson who has chalked up the most seniority in the Kiwanis organization having joined almost 33 years ago and having 32 years of perfect attendance. Although not a past president of the Belleville club, he did hold that office in 1955 when he affiliated with the Plymouth group.

The club wishes to express its appreciation to Don and Carol's Party Store of Belleville for helping to make the party a success.

Betsy is baptized

Elisabeth Ann Emerson, who was labeled "Betsy" by her big brother, Billy, the minute she arrived home from the hospital, received the sacrament of baptism Sept. 12 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The 1 p.m. rite was conducted by The Rev. John Kluka with Rick and Mindy Emerson of Lansing, the infant's uncle and aunt, serving as God-parents.

For the special occasion, Betsy was dressed in her Grandmother Emerson's christening gown of embroidered handkerchief linen which had been made by her own mother, Mrs. Mae Znoski of Iron River, some 60 years ago.

Bill and Mary Ann Emerson, Betsy's dad and mom, later entertained at a buffet dinner in their Martinsville Road home. Sharing in the big day were the baby's grandparents, Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sietz, all of Belleville; Grace Sietz with Whitney and Brad of Trenton; the Al Szuma family, neighbors of the Emersons; Judy Burchett of Taylor and Jack, Rosemary and Michael Loria of Belleville.

Betsy, who was expected on the Fourth of July, made her debut July 6 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Sims to study in Sussex, England

Trams, lorries, bumpershoots and chips will become part of the language and way of life when Romulus student Norman Sims, 20, begins an exchange of culture and schooling later this month in England.

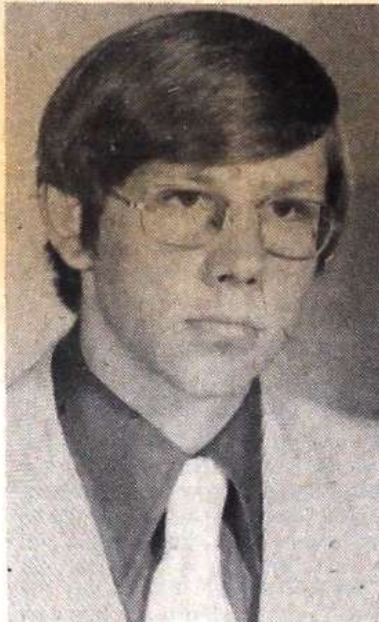

Sims will be attending the University of Sussex in England as part of an exchange program with Albion College where he attended classes for the past two years.

A Romulus High School graduate, Sims, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sims of 10381 Ozga Road, will study law at the university. According to Mrs. Sims, her son will leave the United States on Sept. 28 and return next June.

While at Albion, the student's major subjects have been chemistry and law. He has maintained a high academic standard, attaining the Dean's List three of the four semesters he attended Albion.

Sims was chosen for the exchange program after he applied through Albion College. His family will pay the normal tuition at the Michigan college while Sims studies in England.

In the other half of the exchange program, two English students will attend Albion for nine months.

Napoleon said it

Galleries of Belleville. Her very first creation which she titled "A Touch of Blue" turned out so well that she was urged to enter it in the Michigan State Fair.

The oil, which she had worked on for two weeks, was among hundreds entered but had the honor of being only one of 10 to win a ribbon in the 8-12 age group youth oil painting division. And to top that, she was offered $150 for her canvas! Ann's teacher, who specializes in floral painting, is Joyce King who still has Ann enrolled as a student one day a week. Ann has since added five more finished products to her "collection."

Lake Crest picnics enmasse

The Lake Crest Property Owners Association held its annual picnic Sept. 11 on the lots at the corner of Fisher Road and Harmony Lane which comprise the circuit along with Wilson and Rickman Avenues and Lake Crest Drive.

Thirty families in the area took part in the afternoon of food, fun and frolic planned by Jim and Jill Karolyi, Larry and Maxie Jo Hasse, Leonard and Dottie Armstrong, Ted and Hedy Zywicki, Doreen Craven and Al Bittner.

Corn on the cob roasted over hot coals, fried chicken and hot dogs were the staples of the meal embellished by various salads, vegetables and desserts brought by each family.

Volleyball and football set an active pace until dusk when a huge bonfire kept the party aglow for several more hours. Relay races and a tug of war for the younger set were organized by Jim and Eunice Kause and Bill and Peggy Chizmar. The doorprize drawing was handled by Pauline Womac; the dinner for two at Woodstone Inn being won by Jim and Marian Greene.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS J. VARCAK

Varcak-Dick wed

Double rings exchanged

A 10-day honeymoon in Hawaii and at Disneyland in California followed the Aug. 21 marriage of Debra Marie Dick and Thomas John Varcak, both of Romulus.

Some 150 relatives and friends assembled at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus for the 3 p.m. ceremony which united the couple in holy matrimony. The Rev. John Buehner presided at the double ring rite assisted by Deacon John Budde. A special banner for the occasion was made by the bride's cousin, Sister Vera.

Soloist Judy Cullen sang "Somewhere My Love," "Color My World," "The Wedding Song" and "Ode to Joy."

In keeping with the color scheme of the wedding, the sanctuary was appointed with pink and white carnations and baby's breath as well as two large wedding candles.

Romulus residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dick of 15725 Oakbrook and Mr. and Mrs. John Varcak of 34914 Michele are parents of the bridal pair.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, the bride appeared in a white chiffonette Bianchi gown featuring a Queen Anne neckline, full bishop sleeves and a circular cathedral train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearly enhanced the little fitted bodice and the deep cuffs on the sleeves.

A Juliet cap of Alencon lace secured her double-tiered cathedral veil of silk illusion. A bouquet of miniature white carnations and pink sweetheart roses completed her ensemble.

As her sister's maid of honor, Lori Ann Dick of Romulus wore a gown of dacron organza trimmed with white lace and pink ribbon. Styled with a scoop neckline and puffed sleeves, the dress was complimented by a white picture hat and bouquet of pink variegated and white miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids in identical outfits were Mary Ann Jennings of St. Clair Shores and Karleen Bleggi of Southfield.

Three flowergirls preceded the bride to the altar: 6-year-old Deborah Hebel, 8-year-old Michelle Qualls and 9-year-old Mary Hebel. Their frocks were high-necked versions of the senior attendants' dresses with sashes at the waist. Each carried a white basket filled with pink and white carnations and baby's breath. Each of the girls wore a pink ribbon in her hair.

Ringbearer was 3-year-old Justin Joeger of Sandusky, Ohio.

Vincent Hebel of Utica, the bridegroom's nephew, served as best man. Ushers were David Dick and Brian Dick of Romulus, brothers of the bride.

The Burgundy Room of the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne was reserved for the reception which followed. Mrs. Dick greeted the 200 guests in a mint green sleeveless chiffon gown with a matching cape. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Varcak chose a turquoise chiffon gown with long sheer sleeves. Both mothers were presented with orchids.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Madonna College where she earned her bachelor of arts degree in education. She currently is employed by the Eaton Rapids School District as a learning disability teacher.

Her husband, a senior at Michigan State University, is majoring in horticulture.

The newlyweds are making their home at 1106 University Village, Apt. 7, East Lansing.

PCB poses no danger to breastfed babies

Traces of PCBs (polychlorinated biphenyls) have been reported in mother's milk in several states and PBBs (polybrominated biphenyls) in Michigan.

The presence of these environmental contaminants in mother's milk serves as a warning signal that they are present in all humans in the areas involved and suggests the need for research to determine the extent of the contamination and the degree of danger to humans. It does not suggest any particular danger to breastfed babies, according to members of the Professional Advisory Board of La Leche League International, who are in continuous touch with authorities worldwide conducting research on environmental contaminants.

Dr. Mark Thoman, pediatrician, Fellow American Academy of Pediatrics, Fellow American Academy of Clinical Toxicology, Editor-in-chief of AACTION, the official publication of the American Academy of Clinical Toxicology, assures mothers that breastfeeding is still the preferred method of infant feeding. There is no evidence that it should be discontinued in the areas concerned about PCBs and PBBs.

"Optimal nutrition, immunological protection, and emotional security are but a few of the known advantages the breastfed baby receives," said Dr. Thoman. "These known advantages of breastfeeding, and the known disadvantages of artificial feeding—increased incidence of infections and allergies, as well as possible obesity and hypertension in later life—clearly outweigh the theoretical but extremely remote possibility of future problems from minuscule amounts of these substances in mother's milk. It seems obvious that sticking to the known benefits of breastfeeding is the wiser choice."

To get more practical, we know that any baby whose mother has PBB's in her milk has already been exposed to them for nine months in the womb; in other words, during a highly susceptible, rapid growth period, without any observable ill effects.

Bottle-fed babies have been similarly exposed to PBB's in utero. Thus by renouncing breastfeeding simply for the sake of a short four to six months which might be free of PBB's (but not necessarily of other questionable substances since not all formulas are free of carcinogens and other contaminants), we would be depriving our babies of the many advantages of breast milk and nursing, and at the same time exposing them to the known dangers of artificial feeding (formula) such as infections, allergies and obesity and hypertension in later life.

After those few "PBB-free" months, our children would be eating the same foods as the rest of the family and be equally exposed to any contaminants in them. No one can guarantee our babies a carcinogen-free environment at any time in their lives.

She's mom's birthday gift

Robert and Candice Youtsey of Carleton West Road, New Boston, will be having a double celebration each Sept. 9 in years to come—that of Mrs. Youtsey and her new daughter, Amy Marie, who arrived on her mother's birthday.

Making her debut at Grace Hospital in Detroit, the infant weighed an even nine pounds.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Flock of Romulus and Mrs. James Howard of Brooklyn, Mich.

Sumpter's twin bill

When it comes to "twin bills", Sumpter Elementary School can lay claim to really knowing what it's all about. This year, lots of people at the school are going around seeing double or doing a double take. That's because this fall's enrollment includes eight sets of twins. Seven of the eight pair (from left) are fifth graders La Rhonda and Yolanda Genes; fourth graders James and John Ritchey; third graders Robert and Richard Tate; second graders Ronald and Roger Mayfield; first graders Ron and Ronda Rice, and kindergartners Van and Ian Defibaugh and Kevin and Byron Caudill. Another set of kindergarten twins, Kathleen and Kathryn Korotney, are missing from the picture.

VB Garden Club meets in Brighton

The Van Buren Garden Club journeyed to Brighton for its Sept. 14 luncheon meeting at The Canopy which had been arranged by September hostess Mrs. Clifford Smith. The group then drove through nearby Kensington Metro Park and enjoyed a cruise around Kent Lake on board the Island Queen.

The paddle wheeler's captain told the group they were boating over what had once been farmlands and that the islands were hills where Indians formerly lived. He also said the Island Queen was available for charter groups until the end of October.

Kensington Children's Farm, a living history site, was interesting with its old-fashioned methods of farming and variety of animals waiting to be petted. The farm is being developed especially for children and will have special educational programs, wagon and pony rides and demonstrations showing how to live next to nature and how things used to be.

The club welcomed two new members, Mrs. Fred Miank and Mrs. Frank Prais, and thanked Mrs. Smith for having planned an interesting and enjoyable day in nature's beautiful open space.

'Colorama' is major attraction

October in Michigan is full of events

When the calendar turns to October, Michigan's landscape turns incredible shades of brilliant color. Autumn in Michigan sets the stage for its own special brand of activities and pleasures, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

The forested "colorama" is a major attraction in itself, luring residents and non-residents alike to the highways, byways and country trails for close-up views. It also inspires many pleasant, organized events such as the Color Tour of the Houghton Lake area, originating at the Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce Building, and the Color Tour and Flea Market at Harrison on Oct. 2. A Color Tour of Gladwin County is scheduled for Oct. 10, originating in Gladwin and White Cloud will hold a Color Tour and Flea Market Oct. 9-10. Newago County invites one and all to Color Tour their area along marked routes from Oct. 1-17.

For a look at autumn from a different vantage point, you can make arrangements for a Color Cruise aboard the Beaver Islander Oct. 2, 9 and 10. The motor ship leaves Charlevoix at 1 p.m. each of the three days, cruises Lake Charlevoix and returns to port about 2:30 p.m. Reservations are limited to 200 per cruise and should be made in advance through the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

If you're a travel trailer owner, you might like to join the Fall Travel Trailer Rally, Oct. 1-3 at the Branch County 4-H Fairgrounds in Coldwater. Anyone with a recreational vehicle is welcome. There will be door prizes, family entertainment, bingo, flea market and bazaar and a free pancake breakfast on Sunday.

The Festival of the Forks at Albion celebrates its 10th anniversary Oct. 2 with parades, floats, bands and all kinds of happy time goings-on. At Greenfield Village, Autumn Harvest Weekend, Oct. 2-3, will celebrate the end of the harvest season in the tradition of days gone by. Activities will include demonstrations of century-old farm equipment, crafts, country music, square dancing, a blacksmithing competition and a rug hooking bee.

It's fairly safe to say that as long as there's a Cedar Springs, Michigan red flannel "long johns" will not be forgotten. Or, it could also be said that that particular item of apparel is the "underlying" reason for the annual Red Flannel Queen Pageant, Oct. 2, and the Red Flannel Festival Oct. 9.

October events cover a wide variety of interests. For example, right in step with the times comes "Vantasia 76", a custom Van Show, Oct. 1-3, in Cobo Hall in Detroit. Dog lovers will be interested in the All Breed Dog Show at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit on Oct. 3, and equestrian enthusiasts make note of the Junior Horse Show Oct. 29-31 at the State Fairgrounds. Photography fans can visit the National Photography Show at Kalamazoo Center in Kalamazoo Oct. 1-17 and if you like pretty posies, try the Coleus Chrysanthemums, Foliage Flower Show in the Conservatory on Belle Isle Oct. 1-31. For those who shuffle the cardboards according to Goran or Culbertson or Omar Sharif, there's the Motor City Bridge Tournament in Cobo Hall, Oct. 14-17.

Arts, crafts and antiques buffs have a number of events going on for them around the state this month. October 1-3 take your choice of the Antique Show and Sale at the Austin Prep School in Grosse Pointe; Marquette Federated Womens Club Antique Show and Sale at the Marquette Community Center in Marquette; the Rock and Mineral

For a look at autumn from a different vantage point, you can make arrangements for a Color Cruise...

Show at Traverse City; Ceramic Show at the State Fairgrounds; or the Antique Fair in the County Center Building in Kalamazoo. The Fall Harvest and Crafts Festival will move into the Nature Center in Kalamazoo, Oct. 2-3 and the World Wide Antique Show and Sale will be in the Civic Center in Lansing Oct. 8-10.

At Greenfield Village in Dearborn, the History of Political Parties in the U.S. exhibit continues through Nov. 3 and the Menlo Park Centennial, honoring the genius of Thomas Edison, continues through Nov. 7. Henry Ford Museum's Famous Early Movies series feature Oct. 10, will be the classic "Grapes of Wrath".

Sports fans can enjoy harness racing at Hazel Park and the Jackson Fairgrounds, Oct. 1-23 and thoroughbred racing at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia, through Dec. 4. Collegiate and professional football come on strong along with plenty of good hunting and fishing. October is not only multicolored, but also multi-faceted with happy things to do and see and places to go. For your Michigan Autumn Color

Tour Guide and Michigan Calendar of Travel Events listing all the October happenings and things coming up through the winter months, write the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, 300 South Capitol Avenue, Lansing 48193.

Kensington Metropark offers five guided walks and cruises

Several special activities will be in store for visitors to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority's Kensington Metropark near Milford during the next two weekends. On Sunday a public bird walk will begin at 8 a.m. at the park's Nature Center. Migrating land birds will be the topic of the walk. Participants should bring binoculars for the event. There is a $1 per person charge for the event and interested persons should meet at the Boat Rental Building Dock that morning. Advanced registration for the cruise is required. The following weekend, on Sept. 26, a similar water cruise will be held for the public. The cruises last from one to two hours. At 8 a.m. Sept. 26, a guided nature hike will leave the park's Nature Center, covering the nature trails within the recreational site. Naturalists will be explaining the features of the season during the hike. At 9 a.m. that same day a geology walk will be conducted, with naturalists providing colored slides on the geology of the state. Participants should meet at the Nature Center. For further information on the weekend programs contact the Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford). Dancing signups to close Registration for the square dancing program put on by the Wayne American Legion Post No. 3 will close as of Sunday. The classes, which began Sept. 12, cost a $1.25 per person and are under the instruction of caller Frank Adkins. The dancing is held at the Post Hall, located at 4422 S. Wayne Road, Wayne. According to spokesman for the veterans' organization, it is not necessary to be a legionnaire to join in the weekly dancing program. Also taking place at the legion hall is weekly bingo gaming, staged by the Legion and its Auxiliary. The former conducts bingo games on Saturday, while the Auxiliary manages the Monday morning play. And plans are in the works for a monthly "Bingo Bash" to be held on the fourth Friday of the month at 7:30 p.m. The cost of the party for bingo regular workers will be absorbed by the two sponsoring groups, while non-workers will have to pay $3 per person. Chairmen of the Bingo Bash are Betty Chapman and Edwin Ogger Sr. The duo currently are working on the September bash to be held this Friday evening at the Legion Hall.

privileges. "A man in prison is a convicted felon," Smith said. "He has no rights to bargain and has lost the privilege of belonging to a labor union." Smith is asking concerned citizens to join him in voicing disapproval of House Bill 4115, which now is before the Committee on Corrections, after

CAPers honored

Area residents received honors and promotions during a recent awards ceremony of the Constellation Cadet Squadron 16-1 of the Civil Air Patrol. Lt. W.G. Huffaker, squadron commander, presided over the meeting which was held at the Willow Run Airport. Awards for the first level of training were presented to the following senior members: Frances Whitlark, Westland; Pamela Whitlark, Westland, who was also promoted to warrant officer; and Joie Clarke, Belleville. Cadets receiving promotions and awards were: Teresa Rea, Wayne, Cadet Sergeant and the Wright Brothers Achievement Ribbon; Belleville Cadets Paul Dougherty and James Harvey, cadet first class and the Arnold Achievement Ribbon; and Wayne Whitlark, Westland, and Gerard Mahalak, Belleville, cadet airman and the Curry Achievement Ribbon.

referral from the Committee on Services and Corrections. "There is an outside chance that a bill like this could slip through the Legislature because they (legislators) have so much to get out before adjournment," he added. "To prevent this from happening, citizens should write to their state legislators now so they will know how their constituents feel and be alerted to any drive to push this proposal through." Smith has expressed his objections in letters to the chairman of the Committee on Corrections, all members of that panel and his state representatives. Smith said provisions in the bill include allowing prisoners to "vote to strike" and then "withhold their labor from a job assigned to them or engage in a sitdown until grievances are settled". Smith added that the proposed legislation also will permit prisoners to bargain for "living conditions, wages, recreation, medical treatment, drug therapy, education, rehabilitation, food and shelter. "In my opinion, it is a very foolish and dangerous proposal," the county commissioner said. "When a person is convicted of violating the law, he forfeits certain rights that must not be restored until he has finished his sentence and paid his debt to society. "If an incarcerated individual can enjoy all the rights and privileges of the rest of us, what is the point of prisons?" Smith went on to say he expects the bill to fail by a wide margin, if concerned citizens against crimes, especially union members, immediately begin to write their legislators in protest. "I cannot imagine that a dedicated union member who is obeying the law and is working hard every day would tolerate having an imprisoned criminal enjoy union privileges and support," he added. "We must make our legislators aware of how we feel about his situation."

Funds would stabilize budget

Owen backs 'special bill'

State Rep. Gary Owen (D-22nd District) has come out in support of a bill which will statutorily establish a special fund that the Legislature could use to stabilize the budget during periods of recession and high unemployment.

The bill, introduced when the Legislature entered its fall session, was accompanied by a joint resolution, proposing a constitutional amendment to create the fund. The amendment would have to be approved by voters.

"Although there is an immediate need for this type of stabilization fund, we will not be able to submit the proposed constitutional amendment to the voters until 1978," Owen said. "However, the bill would establish the fund by statute so that it would be in force by the 1977-78 fiscal year."

Michigan has a highly volatile economy, which can swing in either direction," the representative added. "We have just experienced a severe economic slump which had a critical effect on the state budget. It would be shortsighted not to expect economic setbacks in the future. The stabilization fund will give us the cushion we need to carry the state budget and state services through future economic slowdowns."

Owen went on to say that the bill has been sent to the House Appropriations Committee, with action expected to be taken on it during the fall session.

On target

Belleville's senior halfback Mark Cornett hauls in this pass from quarterback Tom Laine for a nine-yard reception against a stingy Wayne Memorial defense. The two teams opened up the 1976 campaign, using last year's script — Wayne won in overtime 13-7 after the game was deadlocked at 7-all at the end of regulation play.

Unold receives Schoolcraft title

Ted Unold, an All-Area harrier who was named to the All-American high school track team as a miler, won the 11th annual running of the prestigious Schoolcraft College High School Invitational Meet in record-setting time on Saturday.

Unold, a 17-year-old senior from Westland John Glenn, toured the three-mile Cass Benton course in 15:25.4, erasing ex-Edsel Ford runner, Mike Watson's 15:53 record from the boards.

"Ted has just been superb this year," said Glenn Coach Jerry Sulitis. "He's in excellent physical condition and it shows in his performances."

Teamwise, Garden City East, which compiled 129 points, took the team championship. Runner-up in the field of 22 was Farmington with 145 points.

Canton falls to Bentley

Building up a 24-0 first half lead, Livonia Bentley went on to spoil Dave Schuele's debut as Plymouth Canton's head football coach Friday night, 32-22.

Two quick first quarter Bentley touchdowns jolted Canton which recovered in the second half to score three touchdowns against the Bulldogs.

"Those quick TDs put us in a hole right off," said Schuele, "and it took us some time to recover. I felt we played a decent second half."

Canton made it a 24-6 ball game in the third quarter when Leo Droucher took the opening kickoff and raced 81-yards for the Chiefs' first touchdown of the season.

With the defense coming alive, Canton again cut into the Bentley lead when Jim Meadows scored from 15-yards out to climax a 42-yard drive put together by quarterback Mark Perkins.

However, Bentley scored late in that quarter to widen the margin to 32-14 before Meadows came back with his second touchdown of the game, a 10-yard fourth quarter sprint.

A Perkins-to-Hutton pass accounted for the two-point conversion.

Mike Nyhus and Jerry Simon earned defensive accolades from their coach who has the job of getting ready for a scrappy bunch of gridders from Dearborn Heights Annapolis on Saturday.

Canton will host the 8 p.m. game.

"Annapolis is a tough ball club," said Schuele. "They're bigger than we are and we're going to have to play an aggressive ball game to beat them."

Wayne Memorial finished fifth with 194 points while Churchill was sixth and John Glenn was ninth (239). Franklin runners amassed 250 points which gave them an 11th and Cherry Hill, the defending champ, wound up in 16.

As if using last year's script but changing the site, characters and players, Wayne and Belleville opened up the 1976 high school football season before an estimated crowd of 5,500 fans who witnessed a "rerun" of last year's action.

Wayne, which nipped its nonleague rival 25-19 in overtime at Belleville a year ago, pulled off a 13-7 victory, again in overtime, Friday night before the home fans.

Quarterback Pat Bledsoe scored on a five-yard sprint around left end in the extra period to settle the issue. The game-winning TD came in the first series of plays.

Belleville tied the game at 7-all in the third quarter when running back Kevin Barnes culminated a 12-play, 63-yard drive with a one-yard plunge with 6:54 showing on the clock. Roy Rutherford's kick for the extra point was good.

Scoreless the first 12 minutes, Wayne got on the board in the second quarter on a pass from Bledsoe to Jerry Smart which covered 34 yards. Mike Paz' conversion attempt gave the Zebras a 7-0 lead.

"We're just happy to win this one," said Wayne's Floyd Carter. "Belleville has an excellent football team and they're going to win their share of games. Boy, but these overtime games are tough."

Same script?

Wayne beats Belleville in overtime, 13-7

Sports

Belleville second year head coach Pat Stokes said he was disappointed with the loss.

"I felt a year ago when we played to that tie then lost, we were lucky, because I felt they were a much better team. However we sort of dominated this game and it's disappointing to lose."

Belleville opens up the Suburban 8 Conference phase of the year Friday night at Plymouth Salem, a team that beat an impressive Bloomfield Hills Andover squad in its opener.

Wayne Memorial, meanwhile, hosts always-rugged Fordson, a 22-0 victory over Livonia Churchill in its opener.

"We saw Fordson against Churchill and I feel this year's team is a much better one than last year's," said Carter. "They have two fine receivers — both over six feet — and an excellent quarterback in Chris Vasiloff."

Both Belleville and Wayne Memorial will enter their initial league games "healthy", according to their coaches.

The stats reflect the closeness of the game as Wayne's total offense — 86 rushing and 54 passing (140) was only four yards more than Belleville's which picked up 103 yards rushing and 33 passing.

However, Belleville had the edge in first downs 14-8. The Tigers also had the edge in penalties — they were slapped with 10 infractions that cost them 90 yards while Wayne was penalized six times for 50 yards.

Barnes launched his senior year by gaining 79 yards in 20 rushes while sophomore Kevin Patterson picked up 44 in 11 carries.

David Lundell and Tony Turrentine led Belleville's assault on Wayne's ball carriers as they had nine and seven solos respectively.

Brett Hanson, one of the top hurdlers in the state, showed that he can run with a football as well as the Wayne senior played the key role in the Zebras' rushing game.

Glenn presents Lutri with opening day win

Westlanders stun Garden City West, 28-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor
It's the kind of opening game all football coaches, especially first year ones, like to see.

And Jerry Lutri, who has taken over for Lloyd Carr as head coach at Westland John Glenn, enjoyed every minute of his first game as his Rockets bombed Garden City West 28-0.

"The kids played an outstanding game, not only on offense but on defense," Lutri said. "It's always nice to win and especially nice to win the first one."

Lutri and the Westlanders' second test will come Friday night at 8 when a young, scrappy Livonia Churchill will be their guests. Churchill was blanked 22-0 by Fordson in their opener.

"We respect Churchill — their personnel and coaching staff," said Lutri. "They have a tradition of producing fine ball clubs over there."

Glenn got on the scoreboard early against West which committed a fatal turnover in the first quarter that set up the touchdown. The Tigers handed the ball over to their hosts on the 10 yard line where Glenn's Bill Lee, on the second play from scrimmage, lunged into the endzone from the one. Mark Grabowski then booted the extra point to give Glenn a 7-0 lead.

The Westlanders widened the margin in the second period as Jeff Preston scored his first touchdown of the season, sprinting over the goal line from 13-yards out. That TD capped a 40-yards, five plays drive engineered by Lee.

Though Glenn missed the point after, their defense came back late in the second quarter with a safety that gave the hosts a 15-0 halftime margin. Rick Burns and Tom Jurewicz received credit for nailing the West ball-carrier behind the line of scrimmage for the two-pointer.

Preston culminated a 45-yard drive in the third quarter with his second TD of the night as he bolted into the endzone from 10-yards out. Grabowski failed in his kicking attempt for the conversion and Glenn wrapped up the evening with a fourth quarter touchdown when Tim Ruark scored from the nine.

Ruark's touchdown was set up by a West turnover on its own 11-yard line.

Preston had an impressive game, rushing for 107 yards in 18 carries while Lee attempted six passes and hit on three for 19 yards.

The Westlanders compiled 187 yards and had 11 first downs as compared to West's 102 total yardage and seven first downs.

Grabowski distinguished himself on defense. The Glenn middle guard had nine solos while Mike Holton looked good as a linebacker.

Title season

are Coach Mark Evans, Coach Hubbard, Bob Hoeft, Danny Correa, Mark Schang, manager Robert Hoeft Sr. In post season play, the Cubs defeated the Inkster All-Stars 9-6 but lost in the Districts to Livonia, 2-1. (Not available at the time of the photo was Bill Reynolds.)

Young Churchill '11' shows promise in loss to Fordson

A young and inexperienced Livonia Churchill football squad was no match for a rebuilt Fordson machine that rolled past Coach Ken Kaestner's Chargers 22-0 in the non-conference opener for both teams.

"We're a team of the future," stressed Kaestner who is entering his 19th season — eighth at Churchill — as head coach. "We have seven underclassmen — of which four are sophomores — who are starting for us."

"The team is trying and you can't knock anyone who tries," Kaestner added.

Churchill's defense, spearheaded by Tim Curran, Chris Clegg, Mark DeWitt and Pat Fabian managed to shut off the Tractor offense in the first half.

However, Fordson broke the scoreless deadlock in the early phase of the battle early in the third period when Tom Wafer scored on a 15-yard sweep.

Churchill provided the visitors with an opportunity to score in the next series as the Chargers fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Fordson recovered on the Churchill seven.

That second TD came about on "a freak incident", according to the Churchill coach. The Fordson quarterback fumbled the handoff which was batted by a Churchill player and the Tractor QB got the ball back clear of any tacklers and waltzed over the goal line.

Fordson cashed in a midfield drive, sparked by a 21-yard pass, to score its final TD of the game.

Fullback Ken Latin lunged in from the one-yard line to score.

Kaestner was pleased with his sophomore quarterback, Ron Nutter's performance.

"He showed he can lead the team and he has great potential," Kaestner said.

Churchill's only serious scoring threat — a drive to the Fordson 22-yard line ended in an interception.

The Livonians will run up against another experienced team Friday night when they travel to Westland John Glenn. Glenn looked awesome in its opener, destroying Garden City West 28-0.

"We know that they have a fine team at Glenn," said Kaestner and their new coach (Jerry Lutri) is carrying on Glenn's winning tradition."

Romulus sputters, 22-6

Disappointed. That's the one word that stood out when third year Romulus High football coach Tom Baldwin discussed the Eagles' 22-6 opening day loss to Detroit DePorres.

"You have to be disappointed when you lose to a team you feel you can beat," said Baldwin. "Our inexperience, especially on offense, stood out."

Romulus generated a mere 66 yards against the overly-stingy DePorres defense.

Baldwin pinpointed the problem to his offensive line which was due for overhauling this week in preparation for Thursday's game with Oak Park.

Baldwin added that the ineptness of the offense couldn't be placed on the shoulders of his quarterback, Phil Bonam. "Bonam showed a lot of poise," Baldwin noted.

Romulus was the first to get on the scoreboard. After the opening kickoff, the Eagles stopped DePorres which gave up the ball via a punt.

Romulus took over on the DePorres' 43 and Bonam pulled off a 36-yard scoring pass play with split receiver Don McMann on the other end.

A bad pass from center foiled Romulus' attempt for the extra point.

That was the lone bright spot in the Eagles' debut. They gave up the tying touchdown in the second quarter as DePorres turned a fumble on the Romulus 32-yard line into their first TD of the season.

DePorres scored early in the third period and put an insurance TD on the board in the last quarter.

Steve Hutchison provided Romulus with a couple of good scoring opportunities when he stole a pair of passes. One of those eventually paved the way to the DePorres' six yard line where a fumble erased the scoring threat.

Ron Wilbanks, a defensive halfback, also stole a DePorres' aerial. In the opener Andy Orgovan, a linebacker, and Dwight Walker, a halfback, provided the Eagles with a huge hunk of the defense.

Baldwin, commenting on the pending game with Oak Park, said that "he doesn't know what to expect from them."

"They beat us last year," Baldwin said, "but Oak Park has a new coach (Chet Pilate) and there probably will be some changes."

Inkster QB scores 2 TDs to beat Murray-Wright

In one stroke Inkster coach Arnice James and his Vikings accomplished what it took them an entire football season to do in 1975. Inkster rallied from a 6-0 deficit Friday to three touchdowns in the final three quarters to jolt Detroit Murray Wright and win their nonleague opener 18-12.

Last year the Vikings won only one of their seven starts.

"We looked sluggish," said James who was displeased with the over-all team performance. "Sure, there were spots that the kids played well, but we had too many turnovers."

Murray Wright drew first blood as the Detroiters connected on a 65-yard pass-run play which gave them the first score.

Inkster came back to erase the first quarter 6-0 deficit early in the next period as Rodney Holt sneaked in from five-yards out to culminate a 45-yard drive.

The Inkster quarterback chose to go for the two-point conversion and missed. He used Maurice Hendricks, Lyndell Knight as his receivers and Anthony Wilson and James Hicks as his runners in that initial TD drive.

The Vikings broke a 6-all deadlock in their first possession of the ball after the half. A 30-yard pass from Holt to Hicks gave them their second six-pointer and that capped a 60-yard drive.

James' Vikings put the game out of reach in the last quarter when Holt scored his second touchdown of the game on a 10-yard keeper.

However, Murray Wright kept things interesting when they came right back to score on a 55-yard pass with two minutes remaining in the game.

"That ball hung in the air so long that anyone could have gotten under it," James said. "We were in a daze or trance and that secondary of ours will have to snap out of it."

Wilson led Inkster's ground attack, amassing 85 yards in 15 tries while Hicks picked up 56 yards in 18 carries. Holt's 10 passes found receivers five times for a total of 88 yards.

Rick Scott looked good as he sacked the Murray Wright quarterback three times for huge losses, and Carl Tomplison recovered two fumbles and got to the QB twice.

"We didn't have any serious injuries," noted James, "so we're healthy for our next one."

The next one is Saginaw Buena Vista, which will be in town 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

Cherry Hill gridders bow in opener, 22-14

A mistake-prone Cherry Hill rallied for two touchdowns in the final quarter but it wasn't enough as the Spartans lost their non-conference football opener to a determined Annapolis 22-14 on Saturday.

Coach Jerry Pawloski's gridders open up the league phase of the season on Saturday at home against Melvindale. Pawloski has labeled Melvindale as the next Tri-River Conference champ.

Melvindale shut out Allen Park in their opener 13-0.

"They're my pre-season pick to win it all," said Pawloski about his next rival. "We're going to have to work hard just to stay in the game with them."

Cherry Hill came out of the Annapolis clash with a couple of injuries to key men: fullback Mike Wiebelhaus sustained a strained knee, (the second play from scrimmage of the game) and Scott Grindling, the team's captain, suffered a shoulder injury.

Annapolis controlled the game for three quarters as the Dearborn Heights gridders scored one touchdown in each of the three periods. The Cougars got on the board midway in the opening period when quarterback Jim Peters sprinted 28-yards into the endzone.

It was Peters again in the second quarter, racing over the goal line from the 19 to cap a midfield drive for the second TD.

Pat Hill picked off a misguided Scott Dawson missile and ran back 26 yards for Annapolis' third touchdown.

Cherry Hill came alive in the final 12 minutes of the game as the Spartans averted the shutout when Clarence Guyton scooped up a midfield fumble and sprinted back 50-yards for a touchdown.

Dawson then combined with Jim Steudle for the two-point conversion.

In the waning minutes of the game, Dawson and Guyton hooked up on a 40-yard scoring pass play. "We're inexperienced," commented Pawloski, "and it showed up in this opener. We made a lot of mistakes that cost us."

Cherry Hill received a stalwart defensive performance from Pat Pudelek, a middle guard, who accounted for 11 solo tackles and four assists, while sophomore Rich Searcy did a adequate job patrolling the Spartan secondary.

Flyers land victories

Defense was the name of the game as the Romulus Flyers landed with two victories against Garden City in the Suburban Football League.

The Flyers Freshman took the first game 13-0, with a good blocking line, some determined running backs and a very stingy defense.

Touchdowns were scored by Grant Long on a 40 yard run off-tackle and by Kevin Hess on a 2-yard plunge.

The Junior Varsity took the second game 12-10. The game was all defense, the first half with the Flyers erupting for two touchdowns the second half.

Take these Finger Tips and put together a better Yellow Pages ad.

We're starting to put together your new Detroit Suburban Yellow Pages Directories. Are you ready to put together a new harder-selling ad? Read these Finger Tips on ways to get customers to your front door. Think about them; then call your Yellow Pages rep today!

Finger Tip:
Do you offer Brand Names, Service?
If you offer a wide choice of brands and/or service, tell about it in your ad.

Finger Tip:
Is yours an Established Firm?
Prospects feel more confident in doing business with experienced people. Tell them how long you've been in business. Or give them other evidence of your reliability—like special licensing.

Finger Tip:
Do you offer Pickup and Delivery?
Saving people time and gas is saving them money. Don't keep it a secret.

Finger Tip:
Are you open at Special Times?
Convenient business hours can win new customers. (Or you can lose customers if they come to your door and it's locked.)

Finger Tip:
Do you offer Unique Services?
Tell about special customer benefits you offer, such as demonstrations, leasing, bonding, sample work, free parking, etc.

Finger Tip:
Are you sure they can find you?
Sometimes just an address isn't enough. Prospects who don't know your neighborhood will still try to find you if you have exactly what they want. Help them with a map.

HERE'S HELP FOR THE "LAST MINUTE WHAT DO I PACK FOR LUNCH BUNCH!"

Take advantage of your freezer to eliminate last-minute work. Many sandwiches can be frozen and removed from the freezer before sending off your brown bagger. They'll be thawed by mealtime.

Make enough sandwiches to last a week, label and freeze. Sandwich-filling ingredients that freeze well include: hard-cooked egg yolk, cooked and canned meats, poultry and fish, cream cheese, Roquefort and blue cheese, cheese spreads, sliced American and Swiss cheese, applesauce, raisins, peanut butter, prepared mustard, catsup, chili sauce, pickles, butter or margarine.

Filling ingredients NOT recommended for freezing are: hard-cooked egg white, jellies and jams, cottage cheese, nuts, cooked bacon, apples.

ADDITIONAL TIPS FOR MAKING AND FREEZING SANDWICHES

Spread bread with softened butter or margarine right to the edges to help keep filling from soaking into bread.

Mayonnaise, salad dressing, lettuce and tomatoes should not be frozen with sandwiches, but added after sandwiches have been thawed.

Wrap sandwiches individually and label them completely, including date of preparation.

To freeze, place sandwiches in a single layer on a cookie sheet or on the freezer shelf. They can be stacked after they are frozen.

Sandwiches may be kept up to two weeks in the freezer at zero degrees.

For maximum food safety, leave sandwiches frozen when packing a lunch box. When it's time to eat, they will be thawed and ready.

If you decide to munch on a few sandwiches during a weekend lunch hour, thaw sandwiches by leaving them in their wrappings at room temperature for about an hour.
